

Lauren Gunn became the second Wildcat in a row to win the Patricia L. Roy Mental Attitude Award. The award is presented annually to a senior participant in each classification “who was nominated by her principal and coach and has demonstrated excellence in mental attitude, scholarship, leadership, and athletic ability.” Lauren ranks 26th out of 37 students, is a two-sport athlete, and is an active member of her community and school. She will be attending Valparaiso University next year on a basketball scholarship. Maddie Howe received the award last season following the 2019 IHSAA State Runner-Up season.

Click here to read about Lauren and the Patricia L. Roy Mental Attitude Award.

